

20K is the very next door to open!

We are glad to see that you have grabbed your profit upon price hitting of the 1st target @24500. After that your stop loss order was to stay not higher than @ entry point of 30670. As of this morning the price with its low shows some less than 100 bucks distance from the 2nd target - 20K. Last night we all had this extremely pleasant news trigger - the FED decision and it seems that the bulls have had enough of their potential for 1 night only. We expect the price to hit 20K very shortly thus leaving the bullish community again "under water". Do not forget to move your stops on the remaining 1/3 part of your positions to the 1st target - 24500. You can surely do it already.