

Fingers crossed - cautiously adding size to our positions

What a market effort to get out of consolidation! Let's put a credit to the Fed's decision which made a core bull trap last Wednesday. The NFP release on Friday confirmed the bearish direction of the price exit out of sideways move. And surely a very nice Wolfe's bearish pattern on top of that. 21K is the 1st target of ours with the following 18.5K and 13.5K within the framework of a large pattern. Enjoy the price sliding and control of your risk.
