

Perhaps the very last correction channel on the way to Zero

We hope you have scrutinized the price behavior reviewed previously and in response to a nice break of the current channel you positioned your triggers that resulted in short positions by now. Indeed, that was a tough false break @48K followed by the 1st leg of, hopefully, the very last price drop in this BTC life cycle. By now we've got a small copy of what we had 3 months ago. One more or a couple of attacks and the Day with the price @1K, 500 or lower will be the one of Swing traders!
