

The right triangle strength will lead to 36600 in the very near future

Loosing capitalization with every day BTC looks weaker & weaker on any chart. While the goal on a right triangle is obvious any new low below 39570 will activate the main target – 30300 (the distance from a deep retrace top to the low of a shallow retrace). We can see that there is no alternative at the moment. The crowd desperately resists but 95% of the market participants can only follow what they are offered by 5%.
